The Historical Society of the District of Columbia Circuit

What lies ahead

- Lectures and panel discussions by and among judges, academics, practitioners, and scholars on historic cases litigated in the Courts of the D. C. Circuit and law-related issues of historic interest.
- Programs exploring competing philosophies of constitutional jurisprudence reflected in the decisions of the Courts of the D. C. Circuit.
- Expansion of the Society's Oral History collection which includes oral histories of many of the judges who have served on the Courts of the D.C. Circuit as well as attorneys and others who have played key roles in the administration of justice in this jurisdiction.
- Educational programs for high school and college students, including moot court arguments on historic cases before the judges of the Courts of the D. C. Circuit.
- Development of an exhibition on historic cases to be unveiled at the dedication of the William B. Bryant Annex.
- Additions to the Society's collection of artifacts, photographs, and memorabilia that reflect the history of the Courts of the D.C. Circuit.

Activities to date

- Publication of Calmly to Poise the Scales of Justice: A History of the Courts of the District of Columbia Circuit, commissioned by the Society and written by Professor Jeffrey Brandon Morris.
- Sponsorship of panel discussions and dialogues on historic cases, including "Iran-Contra in the Courts: A Historical Perspective;" "Reflections on Watergate;" and "A Conversation with Judges William Bryant and Louis F. Oberdorfer on Mallory v. United States."
- Programs for summer associates and law students, including "High-Profile Cases: A View from the Bench," and "Arguing before the D.C. Circuit: Current & Historical Perspectives."
- A two-day celebration of the Bicentennial of the Courts of the D.C. Circuit featuring lectures on historic cases and issues by Justices, judges, and scholars.
- Opening of a Historical Society office, transforming the Society into a membership organization, and launching a Historical Society website at www.dcchs.org.
